

Guidelines on presenting a reflective Curriculum Vitae (CV)

The value of a reflective CV is that you can take time to think about what you have learned from your employment, both before and during your time working in palliative care. So, for example, it may be that your time working in another area of practice helped you realise the value of palliative care.

Please use the template below to summarise your experience. Take additional space if you need it. This should be a summary of what you have learned, not every detail is needed.

| Job | Dates in post (from...to) | What I learned from this that has contributed to my understanding of palliative care. |
|------------|----------------------------------|--|

Now, think if any other experiences, for example, within your community or your family, have also had an impact on your understanding of palliative care and write notes on this below.
